

THE ORANGE COUNTY REGISTER

NEWS

Environmental Nature Center executive director honored at Lakers game

Courtesy of the Environmental Nature Center

Left to right: Geoff Tomlinson, CEO at Vaha Sustainable Energy, Warren Nishikawa, Key Account Manager at LG Solar USA, Bo Glover, ENC Executive Director of the ENC, and Mathew Makovec, Director of Community Relations for the Los Angeles Lakers.

By LOUIS CASIANO | lcasiano@scng.com | Orange County Register

PUBLISHED: January 3, 2018 at 2:38 pm | UPDATED: January 3, 2018 at 2:40 pm

0 COMMENTS

Bo Glover, executive director for the Environmental Nature Center, was given the Community Champion of the Month award at a Dec. 29 Los Angeles Lakers game.

As executive director, Glover has helped raise funds to purchase the Center's property from the Newport-Mesa School District, build Orange County's only native butterfly house, and build an 8,500 square-foot learning center.

Currently, he is working on the development of the community's first nature preschool and nature play area at the Nature Center.

"I am extremely honored to receive this award," Glover said in a statement. "It was a thrill to stand on the court and be recognized for the work I've done at the Environmental Nature Center. I am so grateful."

Get the latest news delivered daily!

SUBSCRIBE

Follow Us

MOST POPULAR

- 1 1906 cottage in Old Towne Orange scooped up in less than a week
- 2 Photos: New NFL stadium construction site in Inglewood
- 3 Man charged with murder, attempted rape in Santa Ana slaying of homeless woman who was '60s soul singer
- 4 U.S. to end policy that allowed legal marijuana to flourish
- 5 Manny Khoshbin, pegged one of 'richest and fittest guys,' selling his Newport Coast house for $9.9 million
- 6 Vicious flu spike in Southern California has caused extreme fevers, some deaths
- 7 Best 2018 Rose Parade photos: Floats, bands, celebrities march and roll through Pasadena
- 8 Inglewood stadium site sets another stage for Rams, Chargers and 'Fight for L.A.'