Join ENC Naturalist Valerie Bain as she reads "The Raft" in the redwoods

Join ENC Naturalist Valerie Bain on Sunday, May 28 from 9:30 to 11 a.m. for a "Tree Hug Hike" out to the Redwood Forest. As your family relaxes on blankets under their tallest trees, Bain will read "The Raft" by Jim LaMarche. This is the story of a boy who visits his grandmother over the summer and unexpectedly comes across a raft. Little does he know, the adventure the raft takes him on will lead him to appreciate the natural wonders of life and the people that surround him.

"The Raft" will take listeners on an exciting adventure

After the reading, children and their adults will participate in hands-on activities related to the theme of the book. Register now at www.encycenter.org. Parents must remain with children at all times. All ages are welcome. Cost: $5 per child, pre-registered member; $7 per child, pre-registered non-member; $10 per child, unregistered walk-in. No charge for adults. Bring your own blanket or towel.

Environmental Nature Center is located at 1601 E. 16th St., Newport Beach.
